Leadership Opportunity

Student Ambassador Application

The College of Arts, Sciences, and Engineering (CASE) is now accepting applications for its Ambassador Program. We invite full-time UNA students majoring in any CASE discipline to apply.

As a Student Ambassador, you will represent CASE at a variety of events, assist with freshman recruitment, and contribute to important college initiatives. Additionally, you may participate in other activities as directed by the Dean or program advisor. Successful candidates will be expected to attend monthly meetings and engage in various events throughout the year.

Ideal candidates should have a strong interest in collaborating with fellow students, college administration, donors, and friends of CASE. You will have the opportunity to work closely with the Dean's Office, college departments, and other UNA offices.
